Life Reflections

Pamela Hendrix was born on February 29, 1964, to the union of James Hendrix and Mary Hendrix, in St. Louis, Missouri.

As a young person, Pam made a profession of Christian faith and began a personal walk with her Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ. She was a member of Monumental Missionary Baptist Church, under the late Pastor Johnson White.

Pam's life was forever changed when she gave birth to her two sons, James Antonio Demar Smith and Donald Antonio Smith. They gave her strength through rough times and laughter and joy all the time. Her family was her world. She took an active role in her grandchildren's lives as well. She would spend time with them by playing games, sharing her life experiences and cooking their favorite meals. For most of her life, Pam was a woman with many hobbies, talents and abilities. She enjoyed playing cards, cooking finger-licking meals, and sharing laughter with everyone she met. Pam had a love for music and celebrated by listening to all genres of it. Line dancing and stepping became an enjoyable routine in her life. From her adolescent years to her adulthood, she enjoyed traveling with her family and friends. Whatever she did, she was all in!

Pam was big-hearted and vibrant with a great sense of humor. She accepted everyone with an open heart, open arms and a perpetual smile. Her smile was infectious and would light up a room. It would spread from one person to another. Her kindness and passionate personality impacted many lives around her. Pam didn't mind expressing her thoughts or opinions about a situation. She also knew how to turn a negative situation into something positive. She was an exemplary mother, grandmother and daughter. Pam embodied the best of qualities: unconditional love, strength of spirit, and an unending generosity that could be seen in the care of her family, friends and countless others
