

Ryan Antonio Keith Wilbourn

September 25, 1989 - November 21, 2017

Ryan Wilbourn was born to Aretha Wilbourn and Melvin Burnett. He was born in Centerville Illinois and grew up in Belleville where he attended school in district 119. He then continued his education through Job Corps where he pursued a career trade. Ryan was employed in St. Louis, MO where he did janitorial work and additional labor jobs.

Ryan is remembered for his comical personality. He had the natural tendency to leave an entire room filled with a heart full of laughter and a face clothed with a smile. Ryan expressed his love regularly to his friends and family every chance he received. His very presence was enough to leave a room filled with memories and joy. He was mostly found being attentive to those around him and giving encouragement through his strength. He took pride in his appearance and was always driven to pursue better opportunities for him and his family. Ryan had recently re-expressed his belief in Jesus Christ and has found rest in his decision.

Ryan leaves behind: his son A'Zavion Wilbourn, wife Shonnece Wilbourn, mother Aretha Wilbourn father Melvin Burnett, two sister's Tiara Carr and Deshay Ricks in addition to his extended Wilbourn, Hudson, Montgomery and Hopson family.

“ Ryan, I'm just sitting here thinking about you and some of your phrases that kept a smile on my phase. My most memorable and most recent was when you said to me, "I love errbody" (inyourvoice) there's many other childhood memories too but "I love errbody was my favorite" Now, I say I Love you! And you will always remain a great memory. Rest Easy ❤️
